

Dear Families of Pupils in Year 11 and 13,

I am writing to update you about the situation with your grades and progress onto courses next year.

1. Grades

We still have no confirmation about the process of using teacher predictions to award grades but it is likely to be a very comprehensive and detailed piece of work and one we will take very seriously. For now we are posting home your grades from your recent Assessment Point 2 without the usual prediction column as this will be reviewed in light of the guidance we get (hopefully this week). This is the issue you are all asking about and I know is concerning you but we really can't do anything until we get the guidance.

2. Year 11 into Year 12

We would normally be conducting the second set of interviews in school so these will now be done over the telephone with a member of the Post 16 or Year 11 team. We are also compiling work that will be preparation for A level and this will be available after Easter. It is really important that you keep working even though the exams have been cancelled to make sure you have a great start to your new courses in the Autumn. Learning is a good thing in itself, not just to pass an exam.

If you are not staying on at Pimlico we will call you after Easter to ensure you have a place secured for the new academic year at college and provide any additional support that you need from us.

3. Year 13 Destinations

Most of the Universities are saying that they are closely monitoring the ongoing situation and will be reviewing any relevant deadlines and other changes in collaboration with the government, exam boards and UCAS. If you have an offer to study they will contact you with any updates or information you may need.

According to the UCAS website the dates for confirming firm and reserve offers have moved to towards the end of May.

We will call you after Easter to check progress whether you have a University offer or have other plans for next year and provide you with the support you need.

4. Leavers events

Year 11 pupils can order hoodies using the information below and need to send their year book entry to d.olivermorgan@pimlicoacademy.org

Once we are clearer about when school will re-open we will let you know about other leavers events. It looks some way off at the moment.

Please also ensure the exams officer has your up to date email address i.karoly@pimlicoacademy.org
